

COMPANY D STARTS FOR HOME FRIDAY NIGHT, MESSAGE SAYS KEPPEL REPORTS RESULTS OF "INVESTIGATION" OF SOLDIERS' COMPLAINTS

DISCHARGE BEGAN YESTERDAY MORNING, TOP SERGEANT DURST TELEGRAPHS TO THE COURIER

Officer Does Not Indicate Whether Unit Is Coming in Body or in Groups and Singly.

TWO OF HOSPITAL DETACHMENT ARRIVE AHEAD

William Bowry, a member of Company D, talking to his home here over the telephone this afternoon, said the Connellsville command would leave Camp Dix tomorrow night and arrive in this city Saturday morning. Bowry did not say what road the soldiers would travel over, but he thinks the local boys will come in a body.

Company D will leave Camp Dix, N. J., for home Friday night. This is the message received from First Sergeant French S. Durst. The disbanding of the company began yesterday morning at 8 o'clock with the examination of the men.

The message was filed at Camp Dix last evening at 5 o'clock. It reads: "Discharge of Company D began today at 8 o'clock. Will leave for home Friday night."

Sergeants P. R. Sheetz and Phil Swartzwelder, members of the Medical Detachment of the 110th, arrived home last night. Swartzwelder stopping off at Scottsdale at the home of his wife. Sheetz came on to this city.

Sergeant Sheetz received his discharge on Monday, but had waited at the camp expecting to come home with other local boys. When the discharges were delayed he and Swartzwelder came on together. Monroe Marietta, also of this city, and a member of the 32nd Division received his discharge at Camp Dix yesterday and came home with Sheetz and Swartzwelder.

As the company may return in groups or singly there may not be a demonstration on the arrival of the veterans. Flags began making their appearance on business houses and residences this morning when a rumor became current that the soldiers would arrive some time this evening.

QUIET RADICALS, THEN SIGN, IS THE GERMAN PROGRAM

Leaders in Business and Industry See No Alternative But to Agree.

OTHERWISE BOLSHEVISM

Feeling is That Anything is Preferable to Rule by the Extreme Element; Extension of Time Granted by Allies, Expiring May 29, the Last.

By Associated Press.
PARIS, May 22.—The eight days granted the Germans before the time limit for the submission of replies to the Allied peace terms expires will be devoted exclusively to the drafting of notes at Versailles but will be employed at Berlin for the purpose of quieting agitation there, according to newspapers here.

It was pointed out that there is an influential party in Germany made up of independent and majority Socialists which favors the signing of the treaty. Bankers, manufacturers and business men generally, as well as the military authorities, are said to share his view, believing, it is declared, that anything is preferable to Bolshevism which might ensue if Germany refused to agree to the terms of peace. Philip Schiedmann, the German chancellor, and Gustave Noske, minister of defense, it is said, have compromised their positions by exaggerated statements and have placed themselves in a difficult situation.

Newspapers declare that the extension granted yesterday will be the last concession as to time made to the enemy. If this is true it is expected the treaty may be signed June 2 and June 16.

PARIS, May 22.—The council of four last evening extended one week, or till May 29, the time within which the German plenipotentiaries must submit their observations on the peace treaty. The time limit would have expired today.

The Germans represented that they were unable to prepare their memoranda on the treaty within the limit. The Germans have given notice of their intention to submit six notes in addition to that requesting an extension of time. These deal with labor, reparations, Alsace Lorraine, eastern boundary adjustment, occupied territory and disposition of German property.

DEMAND THAT PEACE TREATY BE SIGNED

BERLIN, Wednesday, May 21.—The Greater Berlin Soldiers' and Workers' council today adopted a resolution demanding that the peace treaty be signed and appealing to the plenipotentiaries of the Allied countries.

LETTER TRAVELS LONG TIME, THEN IS NOT DELIVERED

Last October 24, E. L. McNitt, mechanical foreman for The Courier, mailed a letter at the Connellsville post office to Michael Grenaldo, a former Courier employee and a member of the 107th Field Artillery in France. Yesterday the letter was returned. "Mike" never saw it. Although Grenaldo served during the war in Battery B of the 107th and the letter was plainly addressed with a typewriter the envelope shows that "no trace" was found of the addressee, the final one being "Return to State."

When it was returned to the writer the envelope bore seven inscriptions which were not there when it was mailed. Mike is still in France, though the remainder of his command has returned, being mustered out this week at Camp Dix.

ITALY LANDS ARMY IN TURKEY; ALLIES ASK EXPLANATION

Joint Note is Sent By United States, France and Great Britain.

AN ANSWER IS RECEIVED

Its Nature and Whether Acceptable to the Others of the Council of Four Is Not Known in Paris; Act Opposed During the Temporary Breach.

By Associated Press.
PARIS, May 22.—It has been learned in trustworthy quarters that the United States, Great Britain and France have united in sending a note to Italy requesting an explanation of the landing of Italian forces in Turkey.

Premier Orlando is said to have made a reply to the council of four after a sharp personal incident during which he objected to the presence of Premier Venizelos of Greece. The latter retired from the meeting.

The Italians landed forces at Adana, Budrum and Makri during the period when Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino had withdrawn from the peace conference, making the landing without notice to the allies.

The nature of the Italian reply and whether it was acceptable to the senders of the note was not known this morning.

HAROLD RICHEY HOME

Michael Grenaldo, Fellow Artillery man, Just Out of Hospital.

Harold Richey, who was attached to the 107th Field Artillery, has received his discharge from the service, arriving home this morning. Harold enlisted in the service while employed in Pittsburg and was stationed in France one year. He is a son of Mrs. William Brookman of this place.

Mike Grenaldo of Wheeler, who was a member of the same artillery, was wounded in the foot about two weeks after he entered the fighting line. Later blood poisoning developed and "Mike," as he is better known among his many friends, was in the hospital for some months, never being able to rejoin his company. When Richey left for home Grenaldo had left the hospital and was ready to return home with a casual company. Both soldiers are former employees of The Courier.

SUSPECTS HELD

Men Arrested Here Are Wanted By Uniontown Police.

T. Polish and John Norchls are being held at the police station for the Uniontown authorities. The men were arrested on suspicion of being connected with the robbery of $500 from Mike Bender of Washington, D. C. here Tuesday night. Nothing could be proved against them in connection with that robbery, but it was learned they were implicated in a Uniontown affair.

The police from that city will come after the men today.

MOUNT PLEASANT SOLDIERS REACH HOME TOMORROW

Company E, Supply Company and Headquarters Men to Arrive in Morning.

BIG WELCOME ARRANGED

Good Things Enough to Serve Thousand Persons Tendered Committee of Women in Charge of Street Banquet; Short Parade on Program.

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, May 22.—Mount Pleasant's soldier boys of the 110th Infantry—the remnant of Company E and those in the supply company and headquarters company—will be home Friday morning by 8 o'clock, according to present arrangements. A tremendous greeting they will receive.

According to latest information the soldiers will arrive at Greensburg at 7:00 o'clock. They will be met there by a reception committee of citizens from the home town. Lunches will be provided them and they will then be hustled on their way to this town which for days has been awaiting them. Eight o'clock is the time fixed for their arrival at the West Penn trolley station at the foot of Main street.

There they will be met by the townspeople and escorted to Church street, where a feast such as they never tasted in France has been prepared for them and for their mothers and sisters and wives and sweethearts and friends. On the way up street they will march between masses of other paraders—organizations and individuals. The Mount Pleasant Municipal band, Orrin Zuck director, and a squad of Veterans of Foreign Wars will act as escort.

Between Washington and Walnut streets, in Church street, tables have been ready for days. For a week this section of the street has been roped off. It has been thoroughly washed and is in fine condition.

It was said today enough provisions have been supplied the committees in charge of the breakfast to serve a thousand persons. About 100 soldiers are expected to be the honor guests, along with the C. A. R., Veterans of Foreign Wars, members of the Ladies Circle of the C. A. R. and the relatives and near friends of the service men.

As the parade reaches Church street on its march up town the service men will drop out, into Church street, while the remainder, according to the present plan, will continue up Main street, around Eagle street to Church street, to Walnut street, disbanding in that section of the thoroughfare.

The armory and all the churches will be thrown open as rest rooms during the day for the accommodation of soldiers, their relatives and friends who came to go there.

There will be no speechmaking following the breakfast. If the men desire to get to their homes after they have eaten they will be given the opportunity without delay. While they are the town's guests, however, every attention will be paid them.

At a meeting of the refreshment committee last evening the ladies decided to have everything that could be possibly gathered in brought to the Church street school building this afternoon, and this evening. Since the ladies expect to serve dinner early it is necessary to have everything that is to be given in as early as possible. A throng from Scottdale is expected, since many of the Company E boys are from that town and vicinity.

MONROE MARIETTA BACK

Former Member of Company D Was Transferred to Another Division.

Monroe Marietta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marietta, arrived home last night, having received his honorable discharge from the Army. Monroe enlisted in Company D, when the company was mobilizing at the armory for service overseas and trained with this company at Camp Hancock.

Following his arrival in France he was transferred to the 32nd Division. At the time the armistice was signed he was assisting at an army postoffice in France. He took part in the hard fighting but escaped injury.

Miss Rugh on Duty Again

Miss Blanche Rugh, assistant chief operator for the Tri-State Telephone company, returned to her duties this morning after being confined to her home in North Cottage avenue for the past several weeks with influenza and pleurisy.

BOYS OF 319TH TO LAND IN NEW YORK; Sailed Yesterday

Regiment Leaves France Fear and Four Days After It Sailed From Newport News.

BREAST, May 22.—"Three Nineteenth sailed on Graf Waldersee 21st for New York."
The foregoing message, signed by Capt. Thomas W. Hooper, the "Fighting Parson" of the 319th Infantry, 80th Division, was received by the Pittsburgh Gazette Times early this morning. It means that probably within two weeks at the latest these Western Pennsylvania lads will be landing.

The regiment left France just one year and four days after it sailed from Newport News for the battle zone. At that time it took it 14 days to reach St. Nazaire, France, but a much shorter voyage from Brest is anticipated, in view of the fact that submarines no longer lurk for transports and since the Brest-New York route is much shorter.

SUFFRAGE WINS

Amendment Resolution Passes House For Second Time by Big Majority.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—For the second time the House of Representatives has endorsed the Susan B. Anthony amendment resolution granting equal suffrage to women. The vote was 304 to 59, the political division on the vote being: 200 Republicans for, 19 against, 105 Democrats for, 70 against. The total vote was 49 more than the required two-thirds.

The resolution now goes to the Senate where the supporters of it expect it to receive approval. It will then go to the states for ratification. Should the amendment be ratified by three-fourths of the states it will become the nineteenth amendment to the constitution, the prohibition amendment being the eighteenth.

Congressman Samuel A. Kendall was one of 21 Pennsylvania representatives voting for the resolution.

ESCHEAT LAW VALID

Insofar As It Relates to Trust Companies, Says Supreme Court.

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—In an opinion handed down by Justice Brandeis the Supreme Court sustains the constitutionality of the escheat law as far as it applies to trust companies, upholding the decision of the Dauphin county court.

Auditor General Snyder said today that a bill would be introduced in the Senate on Monday to remove the defects of the escheat act, so as to make it apply to national banks.

PHYSICALLY FIT AT ANY AGE

It isn't age, it's careless living that ruins men "down and out." Keep your internal organs in good condition and you will always be physically fit. The kidneys are the most over-worked organs in the human body. When they break down under the strain and the deadly uric acid accumulates and the kidneys look out, these sharp crystals tear and scratch the delicate urinary channels causing excruciating pain and set up irritations which may cause premature degeneration and often do turn into deadly Bright's Disease. One of the first warnings of sluggish kidney action is pain or stiffness in the small of the back, loss of appetite, indigestion, dizziness, etc. Do not wait until the danger is upon you. At the first indication of trouble go after the cause at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL HOLLAND'S OIL Capsules, imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They will give almost immediate relief. For any cause they should not, your money will be refunded. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL. None other is genuine. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

"INVESTIGATION."The manner in which Third Assistant Secretary of War Keppel has broken faith with The Courier respecting delivery of a copy of the report of the investigation that was to be made into the alleged unsatisfactory conditions in certain army camps in France, and the use he is attempting to make of it, discredit the action in the whole matter.The fact that he sent it to a Democratic paper exclusively, and that papers were taken in the compilation of the matter comprising the report to give it political significance, causes it to lose its character as a well-intentioned effort to ascertain the real facts in the situation and a determination to remedy unsatisfactory conditions, if any existed, and makes it Democratic propaganda in essence and purpose.The soldiers who supplied the material forming Secretary Keppel's report acted in entire good faith, we are assured, and for the purpose of truthfully setting forth the conditions which prevailed at the time the statements signed by them were written.
No criticism is or can be directed at them, but it is the use which Secretary Keppel attempts to make of the report as a whole that subjects him to the suspicion that he was more concerned about the political bearing of his report than he was about ascertaining whether or no every thing needed for the comfort and welfare of the soldiers, was being provided.In the publication of the two out of a dozen or more letters of complaint received by it, The Courier had no object or purpose other than to stir the War Department to action that would remedy the conditions giving rise to these complaints. From the very outset the War Department and its apologists have attempted to give a political coloring to every word of complaint or criticism that has been directed against the administration of this department. Publicity has hurt the tender sensibilities of officialdom and its satellites, but less, perhaps, than being forced, under the pressure of public opinion, to ameliorate conditions that manifestly and plainly needed to be righted.Thus, in the case of the publication of the letters in The Courier, Secretary Keppel was piqued and all his supporters began to raise the wail of "Political Politics!" Secretary
Keppel has seen fit to use his report to give apparent effectiveness and force to this partisan clamor rather than to frankly admit that the publication by The Courier of the letters was complaining soldiers was the means of causing the War Department to see that the unsatisfactory conditions which existed in the rest of camps occupied by the Army in France were in January were remedied.That this has been done the soldiers and their friends have The Courier to thank rather than to give credit or praise to an intensely partisan War Department official.We may be sure no member of the staff of D will be superstitious about starting on the next journey home on Friday the 23rd.The Huns won't find it any easier to get a week later than today, so they wait.Tuscon loses a capable chief executive and the whole county a useful and much respected citizen in the death of Mayor John D. Carr.And there are those who thought the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company wasn't doing very much during the influenza plague. Only $70,000 worth of insignificant work!It is but natural that the Y. M. C. should grow in membership as it represents in its views as to who shall comprise that membership.President Wilson is likely to meet him from other than his own party this morning to lift the war-time prohibition ban.

The second of a series of dances held last night at the armory for the benefit of the soldiers' and sailors' homecoming celebration was a wonderful success, guests from virtually all parts of the county being in attendance. The affair was in the form of a carnival dance and never did the spacious auditorium present a gay or more attractive scene. The committee in charge composed of R. E. Shaw, Frank Sweeney, Harry Percy, Howard Frankenberg and Russell Vaughn had provided a number of novelties, including the serpentine maze, shadow walling, moonlight dances, lucky spot dance, prizes for the latter being won by Miss Sylvia May and Miss Martz. Paper hats, distributed among the dancers by the committee, were worn throughout the evening. The decorations which were in keeping with the occasion, were strikingly beautiful. Patriotic appointments prevailed, large American flags being effectively arranged on the walls, windows and balcony. Many red, white and blue electric lights added brilliancy to the scene. Dancing was kept up until after midnight and a general good time was had. A delightful feature of the dance was the excellent music by Kiefer's orchestra. Refreshments were served. The third of the series will be held Friday evening, June 6.

Plans have been completed for "A Trip Around the World," to be given tomorrow night under the auspices of the I. H. N. class of the First Methodist Episcopal church. While a large number of tickets have been sold by members of the class there will be plenty in sale at the church tomorrow night. Meeting at the church at 7 o'clock those who expect to take in the trip will leave from there in automobiles, the first stop to be made at the home of Mrs. Alva Plersol in Morrell avenue, Greenwood. There fruit and wafers will be served. At the home of Mrs. E. C. Moore in Lincoln avenue, where the second stop will be made, sandwiches and salad will be served. From there the group will go to the home of Mrs. Frank W. Wright in Will's road, where tea and wafers will be served. The last stop will be made at the home of Mr. J. A. McCreary in East Crawford avenue. There ice cream and cake will be served. The automobile ride and the refreshments cost only the small sum of 50 cents.

Miss Adrienne Solson of Johnston avenue left yesterday morning for Wheeling, W. Va., to attend the annual dance of the Mount of Mount de Chantal college to be held tonight at the Windsor hotel. Before returning to her home Miss Solson will visit friends in Washington, D. C.

The hour was from 7 to 11 o'clock. Various games and music were the amusements and a most enjoyable time was had. Miss Phillips received many handsome and useful gifts.

An interesting social event is a non-commissioned officers' dance to be held in the armory by Company G, Pennsylvania Reserve Militia, under the committee of Sergeants Alonzo M. Kreppe, John Moore, Harry R. Rodgers, James A. List, Corporals Robert W. Springer, Earl Kessler, Howard Moore, Viktor E. Mosley, Nelson Harmon and Benjamin Youngkin. The hours are from 8.30 to 12 o'clock. Music will be furnished by Kiefer's orchestra.

BOY HAD QUEER ASPIRATION

California Youth Believed He Would Make an Ideal Lady's Maid, but He Weakened.

"Bert A. Baldwin, lady's maid," sounds funny, doesn't it, especially as Bert is a farmer's boy, but the police voted for it.

Here's the story: Detectives Joseph Lawrence and David Broderick, being of an inquisitive nature, sighted Bert as he sauntered into a pawnshop. They watched him go in with two heavy suitcases, and watched him come out. In went Joe and Dave to find out about it.

"What did the young fellow want in here?" they demanded of the pawnbroker.

"Wanted to sell a complete outfit of women's clothes, corsage, veil, everything," replied the shopkeeper. That was enough for Joe and Dave. They set sail for Bert and soon cornered him. Off to jail went Bert. Then came the story:

Bert blushed, stammered and confessed. He had ordered the women's attire so that he could impersonate a lady's maid. He longed for adventure. He heard there were lots of jobs for lady's maids. Hadn't the boys back at Sioux Falls told him he looked like a girl? Hadn't he a girlish face and couldn't he talk like a girl? Sure he could, he concluded. However, his nerve failed him, so he tried to pawn the clothes—Los Angeles Times.

Don't Poison Baby. FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which is poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordial," "Soothing Syrup," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician's knowledge of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

LAYDENTOWN MAN IS WINNER OF TWO SERVICE CROSSES

John Warman Receiver, Both American and French Official Decorations.

HAS A VERY CLOSE CALL

Drinking Cup, Carried on Bolt, Saves
His From Bullet Strikes; (Continued in Part, With Philadelphia, in Destroying a Machine Gun Nest.

Special to The Courier.

SMITHFIELD, May 22.—John Warman of Laydowntown, who served with the 37th Division, Ohio, troopers, in France, is home, the possessor of two war crosses—the Distinguished Service Cross, awarded by General Pershing, and the Croix de Guerre, from the French general in his sector. The awards were made for heroic conduct along the River Meuse, where Warman and a comrade from Philadelphia swam the river and located a machine gun nest that was causing a great deal of annoyance to the American forces. They returned without a scratch. Warman was a member of a machine gun squad.

Warman brought home his mess kit, helmet, etc. The drinking cup shows how close a call he had. While stalking a German machine gun nest, a bullet struck the cup, the utensil deflecting it.

Smithfield admirers of Warman—W. R. Abraham, son of a Civil War veteran; Ralph Campbell, returned from overseas; A. J. Smith and Henry O'Neill, a veteran of the Rebellion—motored over to Laydowntown to see him and listen to some of his experiences. They also made a brief call on Asa Rhoades, a neighbor to Warman. He is another overseas veteran who made an enviable record for himself in the Rainbow Division. He was severely wounded by shrapnel, from which he is not yet fully recovered. He sent two Huns to their last account after receiving his wound.

John and Rupert Sutton of the Navy arrived here from Seattle, Wash., Monday and are the guests of their grandmother, Mrs. Lohm Sutton, and other relatives in the borough. They came by way of the Panama Canal and up through Mobile, Ala. They are sons of Albert Sutton, formerly of this place, who died in Alaska several years ago.

Vincent Granelli arrived here last Friday, having been honorably discharged from the service at Camp Dix. He is visiting at the home of his brother, L. J. Granelli.

Dr. H. B. Guher was called to New York Saturday by a telegram appraising him that his son, Lieutenant Morford Guher, who was in a hospital there recovering from wounds received in France, had met with an accident in which he had broken a leg.

Mrs. Sarah J. Davis of Buffalo, Kas., on a visit to her nephews, George, John W. and Charles Moody, is seriously ill at the home of George Moody here. At her request they sent a telegram to her sister in Buffalo advising her of her condition and that she desired to see her. The sister started east immediately.

At the Theatres

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THREE GREEN EYES"—The new World picture, filmed from a famous play and starring June Elvidge, Evelyn Greasley, Montague Love, Johnnie Hines and Carlyle Blackwell, is being presented today. The picture has even more punch than the play, and is guaranteed to grip your attention at the very start and hold it without slackening to the very end of the production. The picture has been given a sumptuous staging and has been given such a presentation that the strength of the story and the prominence of the stars warrants and, as a result, it is a very special production indeed. This is a picture you should see by all means because it will interest and entertain you and make you mighty glad to be among those present at the time it is flashed on the screen. The story deals with Lucille Vale, a young girl who has a school love affair with Paul Arden. However, her mother persuades her to marry a rich man, and before her marriage she writes an indiscreet note to Arden. Later Lucille falls in love with her husband and still later Arden gets the note. Then the excitement begins because, while Arden does not wish to hold the note, it goes through many hands and many experiences before it reaches Lucille again. A selected comedy is also being shown. Friday and Saturday Louis Benson will be presented in "Sandy Burke of the U-Bar-U," a Goldwyn feature.

SOISSON THEATRE.

"THE HEART OF HUMANITY"—A remarkable cinema production is being shown today. No ordinary war play is this tremendous attraction conceived by the master mind of Alton Holubar. So skillfully is the war element handled that it is overshadowed completely by the charming romance which is the picture's main theme. As Nanette, Dorothy Phillips proves herself to be one of

I have had itching piles ever since my earliest recollection. I am 65 years old and have suffered terribly. I have tried many remedies and doctors, but no cure. About 8 weeks ago I saw your ad for Peterson's Ointment. The first application stopped all itching, and in three days all soreness. I have only used one 50c box and consider I am cured, not feeling any return of the trouble for 6 weeks. You have my grateful, heartfelt thanks, and may everyone that has the trouble use this and give your ointment, that is worth a hundred dollars or more, a box a trial. Sincerely yours, A. ## MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands, Strong, Vigorous,
Keen-Minded, Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits over-time. Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork. By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco, indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves, caused by impoverished blood, lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Timidity, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardliness, are due to a large measure to abused nerves. People with plenty of red blood, courage and strong, healthy nerves have no desire to shrink work and lean on others for guidance and support.

There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind; vigorous and energetic in body in a very few weeks and at trifling cost.

To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery; to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance; to be not only a man but a man new to a new day, a new man, you must take seven tablets of Blue-Form every day for seven days—and take them faithfully.

Take two after each meal and one at bedtime and after seven days take one only after meal until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if your nerves are not twice as steady as before; if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded, the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

Blue-Form is without doubt the grandest remedy for nervous, run-down, weak, anemic men and women ever offered direct through druggists and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

26 Years Ago People Bought RU-BER-OLD ROOFING

26 years ago people began to buy Ru-ber-old Roofing. Many of the Ru-ber-old roofs put on in those days are still giving excellent service.

26 years ago Ru-ber-old was born of a determination to make a ready-roofing that would not crack, warp, rot, rust, or leak, and that would be fire-resisting. Today its supremacy is unchallenged.

Ru-ber-old roofing costs a little more than other ready-roofing. But it lasts longer and saves many dollars in re-roofing and repair bills.

On many a roof the limit of its endurance has not yet been found after more than twenty years of duty. Inborn quality, from the surface to the center, is what gives Ru-ber-old its character. The high quality of Ru-ber-old is due to the character of the felt, saturating compound, and coating compound, used in its manufacture, and to the care and pains displayed in the making of it.

Step in and let us show you Ru-ber-old—with the Ru-ber-old Man printed on the wrapper. Tell us how much roofing you require and we will give you an estimate of the cost of Ru-ber-old.

Salvation Army Commander, Disguised, Roamed Through Slums to Study Intimate Problems of East End Unfortunates.

Miss Evangeline Booth, daughter of the late General William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, has given her life to the service of the poor and the unfortunate. Few persons, if any, know she went about in the East End of London, disguised in rags that she might help the unfortunate. When her father stood erect amid a storm of abuse and even physical violence she stood beside him.

Evangeline Booth, Commander of the Salvation Army in the United States.

She knows how the poor suffer because she has suffered with them. She knows they still remain in the wreck of a dissolute man a spark of manhood that will kindle a redeeming flame, because she has fanned many flickering sparks until her patient has regained his feet. She now leads the Salvation Army in the United States at the great moment of its career. The old time slurs and doubts have been banished. During the week of May 19-23 the Salvation Army will appeal to the people of the United States for thirteen million dollars to carry out its after-the-war program. ## KNEW AND LOVED STEVENSON

Old Resident of Tahiti Proud of His Association With the Famous Romanticist.

In the town of Papeete, on the island of Tahiti, lives an old man named Donat, a former comrade of Robert Louis Stevenson, when the famous romanticist was journeying through the South Sea Islands. Donat loves to tell of the days when the writer used to rest in his home and listen to the weird ghost tales which the old man told and which Stevenson wore into some of his stories.

Their friendship began when the writer rented a house to rest in after a trip through the Marquesas Islands. On Donat's grounds were the only vegetable gardens in the island, the formation of which was mostly coral, sand and rubble. Each morning the old man would send to Stevenson's house a great basket of fresh vegetables, fruit and coconuts, and later when the author came to thank Donat for the gift the two would sit in the shade and talk for hours.

Nothing delights Donat more than to talk of his gentle friend and the days when they were together. He gives an intimate picture of Stevenson's simple life on the island, of his rambles on the beach among the coconut groves, of his friendly associations with the natives. When Stevenson left the island he invited Donat aboard his ship for dinner and presented him a valuable ring as a souvenir of their friendship. "He was a good man, a great gentleman," is Donat's tribute.

Awful Thought.

It was Donat's first trip on the ocean and the water kept on going seaward and slaps and heaveho; and all sorts of uncomfortable, disagreeable things, so that Donat began to get a little giddy and dazed and tired and hazy.

Clasping a large doll in her arms, she stood upon the deck by her mother's side.

"Mamma!" she suddenly exclaimed, and her face turned to a delicate pale green.

"Yes, darling; what is the matter?"

"Oh, nothing, mamma! But I—I don't like the rabbit I had for dinner, could have been quite—quite dead!"

Its Bort.

"My wife thinks it's a joke to send me up to the third story to get her a cushion."

"That kind of a joke is far-fetched."

FOUGHT "REDS" WITH CUSTER

"Devil" Devlin, Veteran of the Plains, Now Sells Apples on Streets of New York.

It is a long jump from selling apples from a little sidewalk stand in West 43d street to pumping a carbine during the height of Custer's last fight, but there's an old man in town who does it daily, if any one comes along to encourage him to make the journey. He is Frank Devlin, a little gray-haired, wrinkled apple man, who sits daily with his stock of apples. Yesterday, writes the New York correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch, he met a modern warrior wearing the Croix de Guerre, who had just returned from overseas. The newly made veteran listened with respectful attention while the apple man showed him the way to handle a rifle. For years the wisened old man was "Devil" Devlin, crack rider of the Fifth United States cavalry, and one of the twenty best horsemen in the United States army. It was "Devil" Devlin who rode from Prescott, Ariz., to Dodge City, Kas., which took a matter of nearly three months, 2,110 miles in the saddle. Devlin was present at Custer's last fight and he declares that the Indian fighter of the plains could tell some things to the heroes of the A. E. F. about hard work and harder fighting, long hours and scanty rations.

RAISED STATUS OF LABORER

Joseph Arch Will Long Be Remembered as Champion of English Farm Workers.

From plowboy to member of parliament was the remarkable rise of Joseph Arch, who recently died at the age of 82. He was a unique figure in English parliamentary life, being in 1885 the sole workingman member of the house of commons. At that time there was no kind of labor party in existence there. Mr. Arch achieved fame as the champion of the English farm laborer when the tiller of the soil reared his family on a wage of 52 a week, subsisted chiefly on barley bread and hardly knew the taste of tea or sugar. In 1872 he enrolled 200 farm workers in an organization that came to be known as the National Agricultural Laborers' union, whose leaders the bishop of London wanted to duck in a horse pond. "Adult baptism," Mr. Arch rejoined to the bishop's statement: "Is not the rule of the Church of England?" Mr. Arch is credited with having done more than any other man to improve the condition of England's peasantry. He was popular in parliament. One of his constituents was the prince of Wales, afterward King Edward. He referred to Mr. Arch as "my member." Mr. Arch also was a Primitive Methodist preacher. He was fond of his pipe and an occasional glass of ale.

Mine Produces Coal and Sand

A mining plant that is decidedly unique is located in Ohio. Both coal and sand are taken from the one property which consists of 150 acres. The surface strata is high grade molding sand and has an average depth of about nine feet. It is deposited on a bed of shale about five feet in thickness and under this is a seam of excellent coal averaging from 4 to 5 feet. Shipments of sand already have been made to foundries throughout the country. A considerable tonnage of coal also has been mined. As the shale strata is uncovered by the removal of the sand, steam shovels will be utilized to strip the shale, thereby exposing the seam of coal which will be mined in the open. In comparatively few localities is the coal seam sufficiently near the surface to permit of stripping. The sand is mined by steam shovel and is conveyed by mine cars to a station from which it is loaded into cars by a belt conveyor. A force of nine men can load 400 tons of sand a day—Scientific American.

Bishop Refuses to Dwell in Castle

Whether a bishop should be compelled to live in a castle regardless of his own desire for a more modest and less expensive home is a question which is agitating the clerical authorities of the diocese of Worcester, England. Dr. Ernest Harold Pearce recently was consecrated bishop of Worcester. In the course of a sermon it was declared that no bishop really wanted to live in a castle, and that if the people of his diocese required him to do so, the financial responsibilities should be borne by them, not by him.

Jacqueline of Golden River

by Victor Rousseau

Copyright W. G. Chapman

"You come here one, two year ago," Pierre continued. "You eat up home of M. Duchaine, my master. Old M. Duchaine my master, too. I belong here. You eat up all, come back, eat up some more. Then you sell Mlle. Jacqueline to Louis d'Epernay. You made her run 'way to New York. I ask your dable when your time come. Your dable he say wait. I wait! Mlle. Jacqueline come back. I ask your dable again. He say wait some more. Now your dable tell me he send you here tonight because your time come, and all finish now."

The face that Simon turned on me was not in the least like his own. It was that of a hopeless man who knows that everything he had prized is lost. He had never covered before anyone in his life, I think, but he cowered now before Pierre Caribou.

Then a roar burst from Leroux's lips, and he flung himself upon the Indian in the same desperate way as I had experienced, and in an instant the two men were struggling at the edge of the platform.

They bent, and swayed, and now Leroux was forcing Pierre's head and shoulders backward by the weight of his bull's body. But the Indian's stews, toughened by years of toil to steel, held fast; and just as Leroux, confident of victory, shifted his feet and inclined forward, Pierre changed his grasp and caught him by the throat.

Leroux's face blackened and his eyes started out. His great chest heaved, and he tore impotently at his enemy's strong fingers that were shutting out air and light and consciousness. They rocked and swayed; then, with a last convulsive effort, Leroux swung Pierre off his feet, raised him high in the air, and tried to dash his body against the projecting rock at the tunnel's mouth.

But still the Indian's fingers held, and as his consciousness began to fade, and his consciousness began to fade, Leroux staggered and slipped; and with a seething whine that burst from his constricted throat, a shriek that pierced the torrent's roar, he slid down the cataract, Pierre locked in his arms.

I cried out in horror, but I was forward, fascinated by the dreadful spectacle. I saw the bodies glide down the straight jet of water, as a boy might slide down a column of steel, and plunge into the black cauldron beneath, around whose edge stood the mocking and fantastic figures of ice. The seething lake tossed them high into the air, and the second cataract caught them and flung them back toward the Old Angel.

At last they slid down into the depths of the dark lake, to the forever there in that embrace. And still the cataracts played on, sounding their loud, triumphant, never-ending tune.

I was running down the tunnel again, but something diverted me. It was the face of Leroux, peering at me from among the crevices of the rocks with the same evil smile. I knew from the look on it that he had seen all and had been infinitely pleased thereby.

I caught at him; I wanted to get my hands on him and strangle him, too, and fling him down, and stamp his features out of human semblance. But he eluded me and darted back into the cliff.

I caught him near the entrance and held him fast. He struggled in my grasp and screamed. "Let me go!" he howled. "Ah, you will repent it! Monsieur, let me go! I will give you a half-share in the gold. What do you want with me?"

"What did I want?" I did not know. It must have been the same instinct that leads one to stamp upon a noxious insect. I think it was his joy in the hideous spectacle beneath the cataract that had made me long to kill him.

But now a dreadful fear was dawning on me. "Jacqueline!" I screamed. "I have not seen her," he replied. "Now let me go! Ah, mon Dieu, will you never let me go? It is too late!" Suddenly he grew calm.

"It is too late," he said in a monotone voice. "You have killed both of us!" And, with the sweat still on his forehead, he stood looking maliciously at me.

"If you had let me go," he said, "you would have died just as you are going to die."

I saw the face of the cliff quiver; I saw an immense rock, half-way up, leap into the air and seem to hang there; then the ground was upheaved beneath my feet, and with a frightful roar the rocky walls swayed and fell together.

And the fissure became a cataract that surged over me and dilled my ears with tumult and sealed my eyes with sleep.

CHAPTER XXI.

The End of the Chateau. Darkness impenetrable about me, and a thick air that I breathed with great gasps that hardly brought relief to my choking throat. And a voice out of the darkness crying ceaselessly in my ears:

"Help me! Help me!" I raised myself and tried to struggle to my feet. I found that I could move my limbs freely. I tried to rise upon my knees, but the rock struck me in the d. I scratched my arms out, and I thrust the wall on either side of me.

I must have been stunned by the concussion of the landslide. By a miracle I had not been struck.

"Help me! Help me!" I tried to find the voice. I crawled three feet toward it, and the wall stopped me. But the voice was there. It came from under the wall. I felt about me in the darkness, and my hand touched something damp. I whipped it back to horror. It was the face of a man.

There was only the face. Where the body and limbs ought to have been was only rock. The face was on my side of a wall of rock, pinning down the body that lay outstretched beyond.

I recognized the voice now. It was that of Philippe Lacroix. "Ah, mon Dieu! Help me. Help me!"

He continued to repeat the words in every conceivable tone, and his suffering was pitiable. I felt one hand come through the tiny opening in the wall and grasp at me.

"Who is it?" he mumbled. "Is that you, Hewlett? For God's sake, kill me!"

I crouched beside him, but I did not know what to say or do. I could only wait there, that he might not die alone. "Give me a knife!" he mumbled again; clutching at me. "A knife, Hewlett! Don't leave me to die like this! Bring Pere Antoine and my mother. I want to tell her—to tell her."

He muttered in his delirium until his voice died away. I thought that he would never speak again. But presently he seemed to revive again to the consciousness of his surroundings.

"Are you with me, Hewlett?" he whispered. I placed my hand in his, and he clutched at it with feverish force. "You will have the gold, Hewlett," he muttered, apparently ignorant that I, too, was a prisoner and in hardly better plight. "I tried to kill you, Hewlett. Are you going to leave me to die alone in the dark now?"

"No," I answered. "It doesn't matter, Lacroix." And, really, it did not matter.

"I wanted to kill you," his voice rambled on. "Lacroix is dead. I watched him die. I thought if you died, too, no one but I would know the secret of the gold. I tried to murder you. I blew up the tunnel!"

He paused, and I heard him gasp for breath. His fingers clutched at my coat sleeve again and hooped themselves round mine like claws of steel.

"I had a knife—once!" he resumed, relapsing into his delirium; "but I left it behind me and the police got it. Isn't it odd, Leroux," he rambled on, "that one always leaves something behind when one has killed a man? But the newspapers made no mention about the knife. You didn't know he was dead, did you, Leroux, for all your cleverness, until that fool Hewlett left that paper upon the table? You knew enough to send me to jail, but you didn't know that it was I who killed him. Help me!" He screamed horribly. "He is here, looking at me!"

"There is nobody here, Philippe," I said, trying to soothe his agony of soul. What a poor and stained soul it was, traveling into the next world alone! "There is nobody but me, Philippe!"

"You lie!" he raved. "Louis is here! He has come for me! He deserved to die. He tricked me after we had found the gold. He tricked me twice. He told Leroux, thinking that he would win his gratitude and get free from the man's power. And the second time he told Carson. Then there were three of us in the secret."

"What did you do?" I asked, though it was like conducting a post-mortem upon a murderer's corpse.

"I went to New York to get my share. I wasn't going to be ousted, I who had been one of the discoverers. I don't know how much Carson paid Louis, but I meant to demand half. I thought he had the money in his pocket."

"I followed him all that afternoon after he had left Carson's office. I watched him in the street. At night he went to a room somewhere—at the top of a tall building. I followed him. When I got in I found a woman there. Louis was talking to her and threaten-

MERCHANT OVEN PRODUCTION EXCEEDS THE FURNACE PLANTS

For the First Time in Years Order of Importance is Reversed.

OUTPUT LOWEST IN YEARS

In Fact, During Any Period When the Region Has Made a Pretense of Running, Total But $8,284 Tons, Loss of 17,696 from Preceding Week.

From The Weekly Courier
For the first time in years the production of coke by the merchant operators of the Connellsville region is exceeding that of the furnace interests. Although the latter have almost twice as many ovens available for operation they have but 5,339 of them in blast or 283 less than at the merchant plants. This difference in the number of active ovens is not alone sufficient to account for the difference in the output of the respective interests last week when the furnace production dropped by 19,804 tons to a total of 38,864 tons and the merchant production rose by 2,100 tons to a total of 44,630 tons.

The shrinkage in furnace output was due to making the running time of the week so short that it in effect amounted to only about one day's actual production in normal times. The increase at merchant plants was due in part to more ovens being fired up and to better care at some plants. There was practically no change in the number of furnace ovens normally in blast but the banking process was applied to such an extent that operation came very near approaching a standstill.

Among the merchant producers conditions were somewhat different. A number of plants which have been idle for some time were placed on the producing list and idle ovens at other plants were again brought into use. Hillside and Junior with 43 and 34 ovens respectively resumed operations. Thirteen ovens were added to the active list at Tower Hill No. 1 and 25 each at Washington Nos. 1 and 2. The W. J. Ramsey interests fired up 53 ovens at Elm Grove which has been completely out of blast for several weeks. The only change at the plants of the H. C. Frick Coke Company was the addition of 21 ovens to the active list at Hostetler. The 26 ovens at LaSalle, which have been in steady operation, were blown out, all activity at that plant being now directed to the shipment of coal by barge. Thirty ovens were put out at Seagrave which with other minor changes made a net gain of 123 ovens in the producing list.

The coal market exhibits no perceptible change. There have been some quotations made for railroad coal, resulting in some contracts being placed, but not of very large tonnage. A few inquiries have been received for steam coal but as no business has resulted it is believed these requests have been made with a view to testing out the market. By-product coal is stagnant.

Estimated production of coke for the week ending Saturday May 17, was 83,284 tons, a new low record not only of the year but also of any period during the past quarter of a century when the region has made a pretense of running at all. The slump in production came from the Connellsville district largely its contribution to the total having been but 43,060 tons, a decrease of 16,515 tons from the preceding week. The Lower Connellsville district's share was 40,294, or 1,011 tons less than that of the preceding week, making the total decrease 17,696 tons.

Through the curb on production resulting from general banking of ovens the furnace plants produced but 38,864 tons, a decrease of 19,804 tons. The merchant plants did better with an output of 42,515 tons, a gain of 2,106 tons.

IMPROVEMENT IN COAL PRODUCTION MAKES SLOW GAINS

Total $430,000 Tons During Week of May 18, a Gain of 28,000 Tons Compared With Preceding Week.

The improvement in the production of bituminous coal which was accorded during the week ended May 3 continued through the week of May 10, the output during such week being estimated by the United States Geological Survey at 8,430,000 net tons as compared with 8,015,000 net tons during the week of May 3 and 7,378,000 net tons during the week ended April 26. During the same week of last year improvement also occurred when compared with the week of May 4, 1918 but such improvement failed to equal that of the current week. The daily average per working day is estimated at 1,405,000 net tons and for the first time in a number of months exceeds the daily average for the calendar year to date estimated at 1,359,000 net tons.

For the period January 1 to May 10 the production of bituminous coal is estimated at 162,218,000 net tons and falls approximately 25 per cent below the output during the same period of last year estimated at 201,023,000 net tons.

As in the case of bituminous production improvement was a so recorded in the anthracite field during the week ended May 10 the production being estimated at 1,769,000 net tons.

Italy Orders Locomotives.
The American Locomotive Company has received an order for 156 heavy freight locomotives from the Italian government.

Employees in British Mine.
During March 291,870 persons were employed in the mines of Great Britain.

COKE TRADE SUMMARY.

For the first time in years the order of importance between the merchant and furnace ovens in the Connellsville region has been reversed. With almost the same number in blast the former last week exceeded the latter in coke production by a small margin largely because the principal furnace interest made a more general application of the banking expedient as a means of holding down production while still retaining ovens in operation. In consequence the estimated tonnage of the region dropped to 33,184 a new low record for the year and also a low record for any period during the last 25 years or longer in which the region made any pretense of running. The loss in production was at the furnace ovens the merchants showing a fair gain over the preceding week.

There is a softening in the market generally although spot furnace coke sellers find it necessary to make a cut in price when attempting to force a sale. The condition resulting from the new very much limited absorbing power of the market. Foundry shows an improvement in all grades the quotation being 25 cents in discussing contracts for furnace coke for the second half the producers are disposed to make $4.25 the minimum. Consumers have made no definite bids, so that bid and asked market does not yet appear in the quotations. The distinction in the considerable sliding scale contracts continuing to be pronounced it is probable second half contracts will be made at a flat price.

STEEL MARKET IS IMPROVING WITH HEAVIER BUYING

Railroad Extension Plans Will be Deferred Until Next Year; All Buying Limited to Immediate Needs.

Special to The Weekly Courier
NEW YORK, May 21.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trades tomorrow as follows:

The steel market has improved. There is heavier buying from nearly all quarters. The improvement is distinctly one of greater activity along the same lines as formerly rather than in the development of new sources of demand. Steel requirements for construction work are still extremely high. There is no railroad buying and a canvass of the situation has shown that by redistribution supplies on hand the railroads will not have urgent need to buy more than very small quantities of steel during the remainder of the year. The President announces that the railroads will be returned to their owners at the end of the present calendar year which indicates clearly that plans for railroad extensions will refer to next year rather than any earlier time.

Buyers of steel continue to confine their purchases to known and immediate requirements placing orders frequently and requiring very prompt delivery. The increased buying noted in practically all finished steel products except rails and tin plate is therefore due simply to greater industrial activity along the same lines as formerly. Buyers show no more confidence in prices than they have shown hitherto and investors are not taking hold. On the other hand, steel producers show a great deal more confidence in the maintenance of present prices and from the present outlook declines in the near future appear distinctly improbable.

Structural steel lettings in April represented 24 1/2 per cent of the month's fabricating capacity showing at once a very low degree of activity and a continuance of the increase shown by March. A very large quantity of such work has been figured upon, but lettings are withheld for one reason or another. The work let is all in small jobs.

Export inquiry has improved materially. Prices are no obstacle whatever as regards international competition, but foreign buyers would feel more free to commit themselves if buyers in the United States showed more confidence themselves.

Pig iron shows scarcely any improvement but production and consumption are more nearly in line.
